Car Inspections Tough in Sweden; Dailies Increase

It was the late Gov. Carl Bailey who put through the legislature a compulsory car inspection law, and it was so unpopular that a later General Assembly repealed it. But compulsory inspection is once more the law—and if you hear complaints from some unreconstructed car owners you might remind them that regulations aren't half as tough in Arkansas as they are in Sweden.

This was a news item developed by the Wall Street Journal. Writing from Stockholm, Lorana O. Sullivan reported:

1. All cars more than two years old have to stand inspection once a year on 31 mechanical items.
2. Your inspection month is determined by the last number on your car registration plate, and the fee is $8.

3. Inspection is made by a government-controlled company—not by privately-owned garages as is generally the case in the United States. Sweden has a highly socialized government, fees are supposed to represent the actual cost of running the inspection stations—but they are pretty stiff charges, a customary development in a government-owned operation.

But one thing the Swedes are to be commended for: They do insist that all car owners keep their machines in safe running order—the very thing the late Carl Bailey was thinking about when he rammed the first inspection law through our General Assembly.

Daily and Sunday newspapers in the United States and Canada increased to a total of 2,432 in 1971, according to the Audit Bureau of Circulations, Chicago, of which The Star is a member.

There is a notion in some quarters that newspapers are on the downgrade. It is drawn from the consolidation or suspension of papers in the major cities. But the fact is that both the number of papers and their total circulation is stable in both the U.S. and Canada.

The decline in the number of big city journals is due to the flight of population and trade from the deteriorating centers of metropolitan areas. But as the metropolitan dailies declined the total of American papers held steady or actually increased—because big new dailies sprang up around shopping centers in the suburbs. New York and Chicago are prime examples. The third largest paper in the New York area even a decade ago wasn't in Manhattan at all—it was out on Long Island.

Statistics aren't worth much unless you know the facts behind them.

Sentenced to Prison Term

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A two-year federal prison term on charges of falsifying a $2,000 travel expense voucher has been given Thomas H. Moore, a former Southwestern Medical School administrator here.

Thomas H. Moore earlier was assessed a seven-year term in state district court on conviction of five counts of embezzlement from the school. Moore submitted the false travel vouchers to the U. S. Health, Education and Welfare Department, prosecutors said.

Rail Hike Is Denied

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission has denied the nation's railroads an immediate $500-million boost in freight rates.

But the ICC initiated a full investigation of the railroads' request which could lead to approval of all or part of the proposal in several months.

In announcing Monday that it had suspended the railroads' request, the ICC said a preliminary review of the evidence failed to justify the proposal for

Space Walk to Highlight Apollo 16's Trip Home

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Striking for home after five days of moon exploration, the Apollo 16 astronauts discussed with Mission Control today whether they are returning with the pure volcanic rocks they sought.

"I really don't think we got any volcanic rock to speak of," said astronaut Charles M. Duke Jr. But the ground assured him they believe the moonmen have the volcanic evidence, but not in the form they expected.

The exchange followed the successful firing of a once-troublesome engine that thrust them out of lunar orbit and started them toward a Thursday splashdown in the Pacific Ocean.

The only major event on a leisurely schedule today was a walk in deep space, 200,000 miles from home, by Thomas K. Mattingly II to retrieve two moon-mapping film canisters from an equipment bay at the rear of the command ship Casper. The walk was scheduled at 3:03 p.m., EST.

As the astronauts left lunar orbit Monday night, commander John W. Young expressed the sentiments of his crewmates when he looked out the window and said:

"There's the old crescent earth coming up. Just beautiful. And I tell you we can hardly wait. I know we got a couple things to do before we get there, but we're looking forward to it."

From more than 9,000 miles away they televised to Mission Control "one last beautiful shot of the moon" and then engaged in the scientific discussion.

"It really wasn't what I thought we'd find up there," Duke said. "Maybe some of those little black glass were volcanics, but otherwise I don't think we got any."

He said the white rocks he and Young gathered appeared to be shocked materials, that is hit by meteorites, and therefore perhaps composites of lunar substances and not pure volcanic lava.

Scientist-astronaut Dr. Tony England, the capsule communicator, told Duke some of the rocks he thought were formed by meteorite impacts could actually be volcanic rocks which had been broken up by meteorites.

England reflected the consensus of scientists who watched the lunar surface exploration on television and listened to the astronauts' descriptions of the rocks. Most are convinced there is some evidence of volcanic activity in the material they are bringing home.

For GOP Convention

GM Agreeable to Giving Up Lease

By ERIC SHARP
Associated Press Writer

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., (AP) — General Motors says it is agreeable to giving up a lease on the Miami Beach Convention Hall, apparently clearing the way for the Republicans to move the GOP National Convention here from San Diego.

A GM spokesman said in Detroit Monday that the company had been contacted about moving its Aug. 16-31 Buick Division convention out of Miami Beach. The spokesman said GM was willing to give up the convention hall if it could be released from its commitments to hotels and other businesses in the area.

But the spokesman said he believed that "should be no stumbling block" and "we're perfectly willing to give up the space."

Just prior to GM's statement, a high GOP source involved in the Miami Beach convention negotiations said "the only real problem facing us is whether GM will change its dates."

More Bases Abandoned; 10 GIs Die in Crash

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese forces in the central highlands abandoned two more bases under fire today, but field reports said U.S. bombers knocked out a highway bridge and slowed the North Vietnamese drive toward Kontum City.

Ten Americans were reported killed in the flaming crash of a U.S. helicopter, one of three reported shot down Monday during the South Vietnamese retreat from Tan Canh and Dak To. The dead included six advisers to the South Vietnamese forces at Tan Canh and four helicopter crewmen.

South Vietnamese troops were reported to have evacuated Fire Bases 5 and 6, the last of a string of six government positions on "Rocket Ridge" dominating the high ground north of Kontum. Seven bases fell Monday.

Official reports said the main North Vietnamese advance down Highway 14 south of Tan Canh had not progressed past the town of Dien Binh, which is 11 miles by road north of the new South Vietnamese defensive line at Vo Dinh and 21 miles north of Kontum City. Kontum is believed to be the chief objective of the North Vietnamese offensive, now in its 27th day.

Field reports said U.S. fighter-bombers knocked out the Dien Binh bridge over the Dak Psi River, nine road miles southeast of Tan Canh.

"That is enough to halt the enemy's armor and slow down their advance," said one American officer.

The South Vietnamese put six infantry battalions—up to 3,000 men—at the Vo Dinh defensive line and ordered scattered units of the 22nd Division fleeing from Tan Canh through the mountains to pull back to the same position.

U.S. B52 bombers flew 36 strikes against North Vietnamese troop positions and staging areas at points ranging from eight miles southwest of Kontum City to 29 miles to the northwest. About 900 tons of bombs were dropped.

Troops in Vo Dinh reported enemy tanks and trucks half a mile to the northwest and 2½ miles to the east of the defense line. A U.S. Air Force C130 gunship was called in to attack them, but the result was not known.

U.S. fighter-bomber pilots reported destroying two North Vietnamese tanks and two trucks in the Tan Canh area. But informants said the U.S. air strikes failed to destroy all of the South Vietnamese artillery left at Tan Canh and Dak To, and at least four 155mm and several 105mm howitzers were captured.

Seniority to Continue

LITTLE ROCK — Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said Monday night that the seniority system was not going to be changed in the next six years even if one of his opponents is elected.

McClellan, who is seeking reelection, is being opposed by Ted Boswell of Bryant, Rep. David Pryor, D-Ark., and Foster Johnson of Little Rock.

McClellan told a men's organization at St. Mark's Episcopal Church here that persons elected to the Senate begin to like the seniority system.

"After their first six years, they become silent about the seniority system," he said. "After two terms, they become strong advocates of the system, and it is the best system."

Boswell has attacked the seniority system, saying that it should be changed.

McClellan said that "all the power this state has" comes from the seniority that its senators and representatives have been able to accumulate in Congress.

If he is re-elected, McClellan said Arkansas could within the next six years have the chairmanships of the "three most powerful committees in Congress."

He noted that Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., is chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and that Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., a Democratic presidential candidate, is chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee. He said it was "highly probable" that he will get the chairmanship of the Senate Appropriations Committee if he is re-elected.

Kissinger, Russia Discussed Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Presidential adviser Henry Kissinger spent four days in Moscow having secret talks with Soviet leaders on Vietnam and other international problems, the White House disclosed today.

Kissinger, who made a secret trip to Peking to arrange Nixon's historic China visit, was in the Soviet capital from last Thursday until Monday and met with Communist party chief Leonid L. Brezhnev and Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

The discussion "dealt with important international problems as well as with bilateral matters preparatory to talks between Soviet leaders and President Nixon in May," presidential press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said as he read a brief statement released simultaneously in Washington and Moscow.

The secret talks were occurring at the same time the White House was saying that Kissinger was at the secluded Camp David presidential retreat in Maryland with the chief executive—the same type of play used to cover 12 secret trips to Paris for private talks Kissinger had with the North Vietnamese.

Kissinger, appearing briefly before newsmen at the White House, refused to divulge specific topics covered in his four days of conference.

But he clearly indicated that Vietnam and the Soviet shipment of arms to the Communists there were a major item.

Kissinger disclosed, too, that Nixon has been carrying on extensive exchanges with Brezhnev. He said, in answer to a question, that these exchanges were through correspondents, rather than via the Moscow-Washington hotline.

Two Primaries Today

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Political Writer

Democrats in Pennsylvania and Massachusetts vote today in doubleheader presidential primary elections, with Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey and George McGovern forecasting victories. Sen. Edmund S. Muskie was embattled on both flanks.

The dual primaries began an intensive month of Democratic balloting with Muskie of Maine, his early lead a fading memory, battling to remain a contender for the White House nomination.

Muskie put his campaign emphasis on Pennsylvania and said in Pittsburgh he was "reasonably confident." Humphrey said he expected to win and begin "the long victory trail to the White House."

McGovern, far ahead in the polls in Massachusetts, said he expected to score "a clean sweep there," and ventured south Monday to hunt votes in Pennsylvania, too.

The voting began at 7 a.m. EST in Pennsylvania and some Massachusetts communities. Polls were to close at 8 p.m. EST in both states.

In Pennsylvania, Humphrey of Minnesota, Muskie, McGovern of South Dakota, Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington and Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama were on the presidential preference ballot. That contest is not binding on the 182-vote delegation to the Democratic National Convention.

Pennsylvania Democrats were choosing 137 of the delegates in the primary. Humphrey said he expected to win more of them than any other candidate. Muskie was banking on the support of Gov. Milton J. Shapp and Democratic leaders signed on in his frontrunning days to buoy his delegate show- ing.

The long and complex Massachusetts ballot listed 12 names in a presidential preference poll. There are 102 delegates at stake there, 20 to the statewide winner, the rest apportioned among the 12 congressional districts. Only McGovern and Muskie were running full delegate states. The Muskie slate is headed by Boston Mayor Kevin H. White and boasts a lineup of party office holders and leaders.

But in Massachusetts, the preference vote is binding on the first convention ballot, raising the prospect that some name Democrats pledged to Muskie might win delegate seats and go to the convention in Miami Beach, Fla., committed by state law to vote for McGovern on the opening ballot.

The issues were essentially those the Democratic rivals stressed in Wisconsin, where McGovern received his biggest boost with an April 4 primary victory. The candidates talked of the war, the economy and of tax reform. School busing was not a prime issue.

President Nixon is sure to win the Republican primary in Massachusetts, where Reps. John M. Ashbrook of Ohio and Paul N. McCloskey Jr. of California remained on the ballot. McCloskey endorsed McGovern in the Democratic primary, and said that even though he had quit the campaign he hoped for some Republican votes to protest the renewed bombing of North Vietnam.

There is no GOP presidential preference contest in Pennsylvania.

Plan Offered for Junior Colleges

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A plan of joint state and local financial participation in the creation of new community junior colleges was recommended Monday by the Advisory Commission on Community Junior Colleges.

Under the plan, the state would pay operating costs of each new school and the locality — a county or group of counties to be served by the institution — would pay for buildings, equipment and maintenance. The localities could elect to use existing buildings available to them or vote property taxes to construct facilities.

The recommendation now goes to the state Junior College Board.

Created to study ways of expanding the state's junior college system, the commission considered three alternate plans for creating new schools. They included the establishment of junior colleges as branches of state-supported colleges and universities or assumption by the state of all financial responsibility for the new schools.

A third alternative was continuation of the present voluntary program under Amendment 52, which permits the creation of districts authorized to levy property taxes to finance community junior colleges.

Schools at Helena and Fort Smith have been established under Amendment 52. However, a report prepared for the advisory commission said it was doubtful the state could expect to provide a comprehensive junior college program serving every community in the state by a total reliance on the Amendment 52 methods.

The commission discussed whether to recommend 13 counties as potential sites for new junior colleges, but decided against that.

"We don't want to close the door on anyone who qualifies and wants a college bad enough to pay their part," said state Sen. Clarence Bell of Parkin, a commission member.

The 13 counties were Mississippi, Jefferson, St. Francis, Benton, Pulaski, Miller, Union, Boone, Garland, Polk, Clay, Baxter and Independence.

White House Guard Charged to Nixon

By JIM ADAMS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Morris K. Udall has accused President Nixon of building up a "palace guard" of White House advisers who shape national policy without having to answer either to Congress or the public.

"I think this is a loaded gun that is directed at the whole concept of constitutional separation of powers," the Arizona Democrat said Monday in releasing a report prepared for the House Civil Service Committee on White House staffing.

"Most major policy formulation," he said in a letter to the committee, "is now made by a kind of medieval court where the king's favorites struggle for power, owing no allegiance except to their master, and the public good is consistently subordinated to private gain."

He told newsmen that "the private maneuverings of White House aide Peter Flanigan" and out-of-court settlement of the government's antitrust case against International Telephone & Telegraph Corp. are examples.

He added in his letter: "The back door of the White House is left open for big business and big contributors while 'No Admittance' warnings are plainly out for the public interest."

The staff report was prepared under Udall's direction at the request of the committee. It concluded:

"The White House staff has increased 25 per cent under President Nixon's tenure, to a planned, 2,206 advisers and employees next year, compared to 1,766 in 1970.

The National Security Council under Dr. Henry Kissinger has increased 50 per cent, to 75 people from 50.

The White House payroll has increased an average $4.5 million a year, to $41 million now, compared to an average $1.9 million a year under former President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Udall said the basic problem is transfer of policymaking influence from cabinet members, who must answer to Congress, to such top presidential advisers as Kissinger, Flanigan, H.R. Haldeman and John Erlichman who are not accountable to Congress because of executive privilege.

"This arrogant placing of themselves above the public, press and elected representatives far more than the money or personnel involved is the basic question raised by our study," Udall asserted.

He recommended a congressional hearing and said Kissinger should be among officials called.

Mickey Mouse Replaces Oscar

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — Bing Crosby's Oscar is missing. Police said a three-inch-high statue of Mickey Mouse was left in place of the Oscar, which was stolen over the weekend from the Crosby Library on the Gonzaga University campus.

Police said the theft appeared to be a prank since none of the other Crosby memorabilia in display cases, including the crooner's gold phonograph records, was disturbed. Crosby, who won the Oscar for his role in the 1944 motion picture "Going My Way," has donated his awards to the Roman Catholic university that he once attended.

Brandt Having Difficult Time

By ANTHONY COLLINGS
Associated Press Writer

BONN (AP) — Embattled Chancellor Willy Brandt held his parliamentary supporters in line today to win two test votes in committees as he sought to beat back an opposition attempt to unseat him.

Seventeen of Brandt's Social Democrats and their Free Democrat allies voted in the lower house's Foreign Affairs Committee to recommend ratification of his nonaggression treaties with Moscow and Warsaw.

The 17-16 vote recommending ratification exactly matched the lineup in the committee of the coalition members and their Christian Democratic opponents.

Brandt's coalition also beat back an opposition attempt in the Legal Committee to reopen its hearing on the treaties.

The conservative opposition, attacking rising prices and the Socialist chancellor's domestic program rather than his "East policy" of entente with the Soviet bloc, drew up a "constructive motion of no-confidence" in Brandt's coalition government. The vote was expected Thursday in the Bundestag, the lower house.

It was the first time such a motion has been proposed since West Germany was formed after World War II. But unlike the usual confidence motion proposed by the government, on which the government must resign if defeated, the opposition can win this one only if it mustered a majority of the Bundestag's full membership, or 249 votes.

Brandt's coalition of Social Democrats and Free Democrats still counts 249 members in the Bundestag despite the defection of a Free Democrat on Sunday. The Christian Democrats have 246 members and have to bring every one of those plus three defectors to the voting session to supplant Brandt.

"We have reason to believe we will get a majority," one opposition leader, Richard Stuecklen, said on television Monday night. But later he hedged: "The chances are perhaps 50-50."

Brandt told the viewers: "I await the decision with tranquility."

Brandt needs to survive the no-confidence vote to get his treaties with the Soviet Union and Poland through parliament next week.

Collapse of Brandt's government and junking of the treaties would also sour the atmosphere for President Nixon's trip to Moscow next month.

Arkansas Keeps Cool

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A large high pressure center over the Great Lakes that extended into the western Gulf of Mexico is keeping Arkansas weather cool, clear and dry.

The National Weather Service said fair weather was expected in Arkansas through tonight with mild afternoon temperatures, but cool again tonight.

No precipitation has occurred in the state since early Monday when a few light showers were scattered in the northeast corner of the state.

The Weather Service said no rain was expected until late Wednesday or early Thursday when a low pressure system that was developing over the southern Rockies moves closer to Arkansas. Skies were expected to become increasingly cloudy beginning Wednesday in the western half of the state.

High temperatures Monday ranged from a cool 65 degrees at Harrison to a mild 76 at Texarkana.

Overnight lows included 68 at Fayetteville, 65 at Harrison, 71 at Jonesboro, 73 at Pine Bluff, 76 at Texarkana, 75 at El Dorado, 68 at Memphis, 72 at Little Rock and 73 at Fort Smith.

No precipitation was reported during the 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m. today.

DON JONES

Hope Lions heard an informative talk Monday at the Town and Country during their weekly luncheon.

Don Jones, biologist with the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission, told the group about his duties and work with lakes in this area.

The first work described was that of managing public lakes and streams. Other duties described were those of maintaining access areas, pollution control, extension service for private ponds, and advice and help on vegetation control.

Lion Warren Plyler arranged the program. Rev. Harold Freeman, pastor of the Central Church of Christ, was introduced as a new member.

Curtis Miller of Conway was the guest of James Morrow. Sgt. Ken Hendrix of DeQueen, Arkansas State Police, was the guest of Lion Mosier. Jim Clem, Hope, was the guest of Lion Sharpe, and Jerry Johnson was the guest of Lion Don Freel.

Lion Freel introduced Mrs. Phil Manus who made an appeal for help in raising funds to match federal money in order to expand the School of Hope which works with mentally handicapped children.

At the end of the luncheon hour the results of the annual election of officers were announced. Officers are: President, Don Freel; First Vice President, Jack Caldwell; Treasurer, Paul Rawson; Secretary, Dale Wylie; and Board Members, Royce Pendergrass and Bobby Webb; Tail Twisters, Warren Plyler and Don Johnson; and Lion Tamer, Claud Byrd.

Nation Dry, Cool

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Dry and cool weather prevailed over most of the nation today, with unseasonably cold air in the Midwest pushing frost as far south as central and Southern Illinois.

The cold wave was expected to push eastward and bring freezing temperatures into Virginia by Wednesday morning. A few diminishing showers dampened the southern and central Eastern Seaboard and light rain splashed into the Pacific Northwest and the northern Rockies.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 15 at Marquette County Airport, Mich., to 78 at Phoenix, Ariz.

Conference for Area Law Enforcement Officials

A joint conference for area law enforcement officials dealing with attacks on law enforcement and related urban crime problems will be sponsored by the FBI at Texarkana, Texas, Arkansas, on May 2, according to J. Gordon Shanklin, Special Agent in Charge of the Dallas FBI Office, and Herbert E. Hoxie, Special Agent in Charge, Little Rock, Arkansas.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said the conferences, to be held in every state, will inform local and state law enforcement authorities concerning attacks on police, incendiary and bombing activities, thefts of firearms, and other terrorist acts of violence. Mr. Hoover noted that many robberies and thefts of firearms and explosives are committed by revolutionaries to support their terrorist activities.

The increase in violent activities by terroristic and revolutionary groups in the United States, especially their assaults on police officers, constitutes one of the most serious problems facing our society today," Mr. Hoover said. "Only by keeping informed on the current tactics of these extremist forces can law enforcement expect to cope with them."

Conferences will be attended by law enforcement personnel, prosecutors, and members of the judiciary. Special Agents in Charge of the 59 FBI field offices will preside over conferences in their areas, and leading law enforcement officials will participate in panel discussions.

The conferences will be based on a two-day pilot seminar held in Washington, D.C., in November, 1971, on Urban Guerrilla Warfare. More than fifty top law enforcement officers from throughout the country attended.

In the fall of 1971, similar nationwide conferences were held on the topic of controlling organized crime. A total of 283 conferences, attended by more than 24,000 law enforcement officials representing over 7,100 agencies, were held.

THE GENERATION RAP

—by Helen and Sue Bottel

Adoption Joys And Sorrows

Dear Helen And Sue: "Longing Adoptive Parent" who urged unwed mothers to give their babies up for adoption, got more brickbats than bouquets, but here's the other side: We've been waiting two years for our child and my caseworker says we'll be lucky if we can adopt for at least another year. We didn't specify "perfect, white, and under a year old"—we were willing to accept a partially handicapped, white or Indian child up to two years old.

Helen, you suggested trying for "hard to place" children—older youngsters, mixed-race babies, etc. It's very easy to tell the traumatic first year of adjustment, the girl blossomed to her full potential. She's a fine, talented, loving, beautiful person, and her parents consider themselves the luckiest of people.

I see the 15-year-old adopted son of friends—he's vice president of his student body—who came to them at the age of five, with a diagnosis of nearly total autism (complete withdrawal from the world). Did they have a hard time? You bet! He wouldn't talk for six months. But you should see him now!

One of my students is almost totally deaf, the adopted daughter of a couple who were "too old" for a baby. She's highly successful, charming, and plans a career teaching normal children. When these folks took her, they were warned of possible mental retardation (which turned out to be only deafness). What would have happened to her in an institution?

I can think of at least 10 children, adopted when they were over three, who are enriching the lives of barren parents with the guts to face challenge. More genuine "family love" between parents and children is hard to find.

With all the "unwanted" children needing families, I have nothing but pity for two humans who must ask why a pregnant teenager won't give up her baby. Not that I advocate always keeping the baby: young unwed mothers sometimes don't make the best parents, and they must face their decision squarely.

I only say: If you REALLY want a child, don't limit yourselves when so many hard-to-place children are waiting. —MOTHER, FRIEND AND TEACHER

Dear Helen And Sue:

I am a single mother. In the beginning I had many doubts and fears, but I loved my baby and chose to keep her. She will never suffer from having just one parent. I work hard but my life is meaningful never empty. I have never once regretted keeping her, and I never will. Nor, I believe, will she ever regret that I did! —A.R.

Dear Rap: I gave up my baby. Even after three years. I still long for him. I'm now happily married, but my life would be complete if my first baby were with us. Maybe someday he'll wonder about me, too, and be sad. —NEVER AGAIN

Yellow Creek Homecoming

Yellow Creek Homecoming will be held Sunday, May 7, at the old Yellow Creek Church located between Saratoga and Columbus.

Final plans will be made for a bronze plaque to be erected on the church lawn. This marker will represent the site of the old church building.

Lunch will be served and there will be singing and visiting during the afternoon. A free door prize will be given. Everyone is invited.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — The march of what the television industry calls "busted pilots" continues. This time it was three comedy programs on NBC Monday night, none of which is on the network's fall schedule and so all may be presumed to be discarded.

"Wednesday Night Out," the first, centered on four households—a Jewish, an Italian-American, a WASP couple plus a divorcee, all close friends. A black woman doctor was injected into the story line and the ethnic one-liners took over, sometimes baldly and sometimes amusingly. A little TV bigotry goes a long way and Archie Bunker still has it pretty well cornered.

Then "Keeping Up With the Joneses" concentrated on the life of two couples formerly in "The Funny Side" which was canceled at midseason. The pairs in this, one black and the other white, have the same surname and share one remodeled brownstone. It was all slightly reminiscent of the old "Honey-mooners," with lots of shouting and marital misunderstanding.

Between the domestic comedies there was Arte Johnson in a broad satire of the infallible sleuth. Arte had a chance to use a lot of wigs and crepe beards and exercise an assortment of foreign accents. It was okay for a half hour, but would be a bore on a once-a-week basis.

The combination of writer Andrew Rooney and narrator Harry Reasoner emerged again in a short ABC essay on church architecture. It seemed primarily designed to show some of the off-beat edifices used as houses of worship.

A "church" was defined for program purposes as "any place where people gather to pray." They ranged from shabby storefronts to modern experiments to Gothic and Renaissance cathedrals. Reasoner called New England's white churches with their steeples "America's single greatest architectural contribution."

It was followed by a news department report on the subject amnesty for draft dodgers and deserters. Most of the visual material was taped segments of a Senate subcommittee hearing on the subject. Both sides were represented, and it was extremely thought provoking.

"Surrender at Appomatox" in CBS's "Appointment with Destiny" series concentrated on the final days of the Civil War and the confrontation between Robert E. Lee and Ulysses S. Grant.

someone who is adopting not to be too fussy, but it's cruel to tell them they should take anything available. Even psychiatrists agree it takes a very special couple to raise an interracial child. It is also difficult for older youngsters to adjust to a new family, and vice versa. —24 MONTHS PREGNANT AND STILL WAITING

Dear Rap:

The real culprit in the shortage of adoptive babies is—abortion. If a girl becomes pregnant, she should shelter her own child long enough to allow him life—either with her or with two parents who could give him so very much. Legalized abortion (over 160,000 babies exterminated in New York state alone last year) is robbing many "longing adoptive parents" of children they would love and cherish. —G.K.

Dear Rap: Bully for you two—who suggested adopting "hard to place" older children if babies weren't available any more.

I just sent a college graduation gift to the adopted daughter of a friend. This girl was adopted at age four, with a terrible history of sadness and mistreatment at the hands of a drunken mother and a series of "fathers" after

Bobcats Capture Pair

By BILL MOORE

Nothing seemed to go wrong yesterday as the Hope Bobcats swept two games away from home with some strong pitching leading the way.

Hope opened the Southern State Tournament with an impressive 7-2, victory over Harmony Grove and then traveled to Fairview for a regularly scheduled game, beating the Cardinals 8-2, last night.

In the first game with Harmony Grove, the Bobcats scored first when Buddy Ingram doubled and raced home on Tim White's single. A run each in the second and third innings gave Hope a 3-1 margin going into the fourth frame.

This proved to be the big inning that did the damage as Lynn Norton led off with a double and scored on two consecutive wild pitches. Paul Young then walked, stole second and came across the plate on Mike Down's single. Down's later scored on a catcher's error.

Now, with a 6-1 margin, the Bobcats added another run in the fifth and coasted on in behind some beautiful pitching by Norton and David Huddleston. Norton went the first four innings, giving up just two runs on one hit and striking out seven batters while Huddleston finished up the last three, allowing no runs, one hit and striking out five.

Moving over to the Fairview game, Hope started slowly, having just played in the tournament, but seemed to get stronger as the innings went by and everyone saw playing action.

Unable to get anything mounted in the first inning, Hope scored the first run of the game in the second inning when Phil Butler knocked in Bill Moore on a hard hit shot to right-center field. During the third inning Paul Young scored another single run.

Holding Fairview at bay, the Bobcats came in to bat in the fourth inning and began to get things moving.

After Moore reached base and then stole second, Butler again connected for a run producing single and moved on around to third on a center field throwing error. Bill Rowland sent a fly ball to right field, which was dropped, allowing Butler to score and Rowland to go all the way to third on a bad throw. Paul Young then sacrificed Rowland in with a fly ball to right field for the final run of the frame.

Hope scored three more runs in the top of the seventh while Fairview could only get single runs in the fourth and sixth innings.

Bill Rowland hurled the first three innings, giving up no runs, one hit, and striking out five batters, while Richard Butler finished the last four allowing just two hits, two runs, and striking out seven.

The Bobcats travel to Magnolia Thursday for a 3:00 p.m. game with Junction City in the semi-final game of the Southern State Tournament.

Key Hits Win for Rangers, Astros

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON

Hawks Seeking Coach

ATLANTA (AP) — Richie Guerin, dean of National Basketball Association coaches, had a new title and a new job today. The new Atlanta Hawks general manager has to find a new Hawks coach.

Hawks President Bill Putnam announced Monday that Guerin, coach of the Hawks since 1964 when they were in St. Louis, would become the general manager blows by players who are hitting their weight, but not by much?

In the only baseball games played, the Astros nipped the Chicago Cubs 3-2 on an 11th-inning home run by 211-pound John Edwards (.239 lifetime average) and the Rangers defeated the California Angels 6-4 on a two-run seventh-inning single by 205-pound and .254-average Larry Bittner.

The only other scheduled contest—Detroit at Milwaukee—was postponed by cold weather.

Houston's triumph was its seventh in a row and lifted the Astros into a tie with Los Angeles for the National League West lead. Texas has won four straight and is tied with the Chicago White Sox for second in the American League West, just .042 percentage points behind Oakland.

At the other end of the scale, the Cubs have dropped six in a row, the Angels five, and both are last in their respective divisions.

Houston's strong start isn't surprising since most experts thought the Astros improved themselves with off-season deals.

"This is the best club I've ever gone to Florida with or come out of Florida with," manager Harry Walker said following spring training.

One of the new acquisitions, first baseman Lee May, socked a two-run homer in the first inning after Ron Santo's staked the Cubs to a 2-0 lead with a home run of his own.

Edwards' homer with one out in the 11th made a loser out of Cub ace Fergie Jenkins for the third time in the young season, although it was only the fourth hit of the game off the 1971 Cy Young Award winner.

Guerin began his pro career as a player with the New York Knicks. He was traded to the Hawks in 1963 and replaced Harry Galatin as coach in December 1964. He was a player-coach for six years.

PAWTUCKET, R.I. (AP) — Narragansett Park has ended its night racing program after just one evening and is resuming day racing beginning Wednesday.

J. Alden Dooley, track president, said the change was made because groomers were demanding "unreasonable" pay to walk horses.

Pole Vaulter Is Hungry Again

By DAN BERGER

Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — He went from a 15-foot pole vaulter in high school to a 16-4 vaulter in his first year of college.

And then came all the glamor an athlete can hope for: the national pole vault champion; one of the first to clear 17 feet.

Then there was a successful tour of Europe, cheered by hundreds of thousands; a desired speaker at banquets because of his good looks and easy-going speech; a world record and then the Olympic gold medal followed by a storybook marriage to a beauty queen.

Bob Seagren then came down to earth. Literally.

The rugged graduate of the University of Southern California was horseback riding with his wife Kam in mid-1971 when—

Cruz Lifts Travelers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tommy Cruz scored on a hard single to center by Jeff Mason in the bottom of the 12th inning Monday night to lift the Arkansas Travelers to a 5-4 victory in Texas League play.

In Shreveport, Jeff Anderson had a solo home run and George Kazmarek hit a two run homer to pace the Blues past the Angels 5-1.

In other Texas League action, El Paso defeated Midland 11-3 and San Antonio beat Amarillo 5-2.

Bob Long went three for four, hitting one home run and scored three times to lead the El Paso attack. Paul Johnson also had a homer for the Sun Dodgers. Tim Johnson scored two runs for Midland and Chris Ward also homered.

San Antonio collected seven hits, getting three runs in the first on a home run by Gorman Thomas in their win over Amarillo.

Amarillo loaded the bases with no outs in the ninth but Nelson Gibson came on, and ended the threat with two pitches. Jake Jacobs hit into a double play and pinch hitter Horace Sneed grounded out.

The Travelers left 18 men on base and loaded the bases four times but couldn't capitalize. They tied the game up in the ninth with a wild pitch and error and a bases-loaded walk.

After Long Layoff Nets

Find Right Combination

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

After losing the first two games of their American Basketball Association Eastern Division playoff finals to Virginia, then waiting through a nine-day layoff before Game 3, the New York Nets managed to find the right combination at the Nassau Coliseum Monday night, let four men share the scoring and let Ollie Taylor perform "a little assault and battery" on defense.

That combination produced a 119-117 victory for the Nets, cutting Virginia's lead in the series to 2-1 and giving the Nets a chance to square things in the fourth game Wednesday night.

In the ABA Western Division finals, Utah got 34 points from Willie Wise and 32 from Jimmie Jones and bombed the Indiana Pacers 139-130 at Salt Lake City. The Stars now lead that series 3-2, and can wrap it up Wednesday night in Bloomington, Ind.

The Nets led nearly all the way in their game, but seven straight points by Virginia put the Squires ahead 117-116 in the final two minutes. Center Billy Paultz tied it for New York with a free throw with 1:16 to play, then Rick Barry hit a lay-up with just eight seconds showing on the clock to provide the margin of victory.

Barry and John Roche scored 25 each for New York, followed by Paultz with 23 and Bill Melchioni with 20. Taylor, meanwhile, did the job on defense, limiting Julius Erving, who had scored 27 points in the first half, to just four in the second

Bill Sharman Is Coach of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Bill Sharman, whose Los Angeles Lakers won a record 69 games during the regular season, was named Coach of the Year in the National Basketball Association today.

The 45-year-old Sharman was a runaway winner in the voting by three sports writers in each of the league's 17 cities with 42 votes. Tom Heinsohn of Boston and Al Attles of Golden State tied for second with three votes each.

Gene Shue of Baltimore received two votes and Lenny Wilkens of Seattle one.

In Sharman's first season as Los Angeles coach, the Lakers reeled off a 33-game winning streak, unprecedented in the history of major league professional team sports while cruising to the Pacific Division title. The Lakers then went on to win the Western Conference Championship and are preparing to meet the New York Knicks for the NBA title.

In 81 of their 82 regular season games, the Lakers scored 100 or more points.

Sharman's attributes the team's success to the conditioning program he put the Lakers on when he was lured away from the champion Utah Stars of the American Basketball Association.

"There are no secrets in this game," Sharman said. "A player who is in the best shape possible is in a position to function and reach maximum efficiency. No other sport can compare with basketball in the importance of conditioning."

"I've tried through the years to work out patterns and drills that will keep my team in condition. I take the game seriously. That's why I demand so much of my players. You have to win everything—all the time."

Enthusiasm Very High

NORTH LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Frank Broyles, head coach of the Arkansas Razorbacks, said Monday night that in his 15 springs at Arkansas "I've never seen any more enthusiasm than I'm seeing right now" from the fans.

"I would say that Saturday night's crowd of more than 30,000 for our Red-White game meant as much as any one thing to our team going into next fall," Broyles said at a Razorback club function honoring Ronnie Jones, the Razorbacks' All-Southwest conference defensive end last season. "Our players responded to the crowd. I know that I responded when I saw them still coming after the kickoff. This made it a much better game."

Broyles said this may have been one of the biggest crowds ever to see a spring game anywhere. "That's as it should be," he said. "We've bragged on our fans and they've always come through for us."

Two Demand Witnesses Be Recalled in the ITT Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Senate Judiciary Committee members are demanding the recall of Acting Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst and presidential aide Peter M. Flanigan for questioning about an apparent conflict in statements they made regarding settlement of an ITT antitrust case.

Democratic Sens. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts and John V. Tunney of California said in statements Monday the additional testimony is necessary to discuss Flanigan's statement that he talked to Kleindienst about the case and Kleindienst's statement that he didn't discuss antitrust matters with White House officials.

The apparent conflict developed Monday when Flanigan answered two written questions submitted by the committee requesting information on Flanigan's discussions with International Telephone & Telegraph Corp. officers and Justice Department officials about a proposed settlement of the antitrust case.

Flanigan said he met on June 29, 1971, with Felix G. Rohatyn, an ITT director, who "indicated his belief that the proposal was so tough as to be unacceptable to the company that the company intended to continue the suits in court."

A few days later, Flanigan said, he met with Kleindienst and "passed on to him the Rohatyn comment and my reply."

Flanigan said Kleindienst's reply was the same as his own: Assistant Atty. Gen. Richard W. McLaren was handling the case alone.

In testimony before the committee March 2, Kleindienst said he could not recall discussing the case with anyone from the White House. "It is possible that some casual reference could have been made to it," Kleindienst testified, "but so far as discussing any policy or any aspect of the case, I did not and I do not discuss antitrust matters there."

The Justice Department announced the billion-dollar out-of-court settlement of the three antitrust suits against ITT last July 31, about a month after Flanigan talked to Rohatyn.

All Networks Dislike TV's Prime Time Access Rule

By JERRY BUCK

Associated Press Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A nationwide survey of television station managers shows two-thirds of them dislike TV's prime time access rule, which would be magnified greatly if the Justice Department is successful in its antitrust suit against the networks.

The prime time rule was imposed last October by the Federal Communications Commission as a method of providing more diversified and innovative sources of program than those offered by the networks. It requires the local stations to produce their own shows for a half hour each night or turn to independent producers or advertising agencies.

Whether more innovative and diversified programming has resulted is questionable.

Sixty-one out of 97 managers polled by The Associated Press were against the rule. Only 23 managers said they either favored the rule or believed that it should be tested further. Thirteen offered no opinion.

"It's producing a variety of programming and allowing independent producers to enter the market," said Lee Jason of KFSN, Fresno, Calif. "But it's decreased the quality of programming because independent producers can't gamble with an innovative product. Instead, they stick to tried-and-true formats, like game shows."

A struggle within the industry could be in the offering. Some stations are losing money from the rule, but others are profiting from it. NBC is seeking to have the rule withdrawn by the FCC, presumably because it has cost the network money. But the rule has greatly helped the competitive posture and financial standing of another network, ABC.

A number of independent producers are risking money with new shows on the assurance of the FCC that the rule will stay in force.

While critics assail the rule, saying it has produced a proliferation of game shows, bargain-basement dramas and off-network reruns, the Justice Department has filed suit to take entertainment programming away from the networks altogether. The suit, filed April 14 in Los Angeles, would turn network programming over to advertising agencies and independent producers in much the same way as does the prime time access rule.

The networks have mixed reactions to the prime time rule. Julian Goodman, president of NBC, is leading the fight to revoke the rule, which he calls "unrealistic" and says has produced "absurd results."

But at ABC, a spokesman said, "We think it needs another year for everyone to take a look at it. The first year was an experiment. A shakedown year with a lot of waivers."

"There's no question that it helped ABC. The economy was bad, cigarettes were gone. It reduced our inventory in a slow market time and we were able to weed out a lot of losers."

Met Gets Black Conductor

NEW YORK (AP) — Henry Lewis will become the first black conductor in the history of the Metropolitan Opera.

Lewis, the 39-year-old music director of the New Jersey Symphony, has been engaged to make his debut with the company next season in Puccini's "La Boheme."

Lewis, married to Met soprano Marilyn Horne, has conducted the San Francisco Opera, the Vancouver Opera, the Boston Opera and the American Opera Society, as well as major symphony orchestras.

Judge Hughes Injured

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP) — U.S. District Court Judge Sarah T. Hughes, who administered the presidential oath of office to Lyndon B. Johnson shortly after the assassination of John F. Kennedy, is recovering from injuries suffered in a traffic accident.

The 75-year-old judge was reported in good condition today at Candler General Hospital where she was admitted Monday after suffering broken ribs in a two-car crash.
